Mexico's Riviera Maya: What Celebrity Families Vacation There?

POSTED BY SUNNYCHANEL ON APRIL 9TH, 2011 AT 11:52 AM

Mexico's Riviera Maya on the Yucatan Peninsula is a vacation hot spot for good reasons. It has gorgeous beaches, great weather and wonderful culture. So of course it attracts travelers from all over, and some of them just happen to be famous...really famous.

What celebrity families have vacationed in the Riviera Maya in Mexico? Here are a few who have played in the Yucatan's sun and sand!

Julia Roberts, Angelina Jolie & Brad Pitt, Mark Wahlberg, Adam Sandler, Christina Aguilera and Salma Hayek are all stars who have taken their families down there. And they do so in a low key way, they can arrive and enjoy their time there in privacy.

he Riviera Maya's Moroma Resort and Spa, an Orient-Express hotel, is frequently by Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes, Celine Dion, Sean Penn, and Sharon Stone and they all try to book the same room (number 23). And Tom Cruise comes down so often that the owners constructed a special suite for just for Tom, Katie and Suri.

In nearby Esencia, the families of Gwyneth Paltrow and Uma Thurman have stayed. And in Tulum, dads Jude Law and Mick Jagger have spent time.
